

PAIR OF BRONZE MEDICI VASES

A pair of finely cast Medici bronze vases with dark patination, each decorated with bold acanthus leaves to the upper body and a lower register of floral panels. The flared rims have a gadrooned edge, and the vases are raised on turned socles over square ocre Sienna marble plinths.

Patina consistent with age, minor wear to high points, both vases with a small area of surface loss to the patina; marble bases with light edge wear and natural veining.
